ALL-SERVICE FIND MORIYAMA AND MAKE MANY HITS

The Asahis left the appearance of inter-island champions yesterday, literally going to pieces under the heavy hammering of the soldier boys, who clouted Pitcher T. Moriyama 19 times, getting a total of 18 runs as against the Japanese youngsters' 6. It was a complete rout, reminding the fans of the famous farce of a few months ago when the Hawaiis took a deciding game from the Portuguese by a score of 19 to 0.

From Pitcher Moriyama right down the line the entire Asahi aggregation seemed at its worst, unable to hold a ball, to throw or to use brains. Three times they collected a double score at bat, however, indicating some of their pristine hitting strength, but their case was hopeless after the first round, as the All-Service team was working in fairly good form, particularly with the willow and on bases.

Manager Abe's bunch started well and it looked fair to prove an interesting game, but before the first inning closed the outcome was evident—a solid victory and a lengthy, tiresome dispute. The contest, if it can be entitled to the name, lasted 2 hours and 5 minutes.

Lawson, who occupied the mound for the All-Service six innings, started mild, walking the first two men, Araki and Nishi, and then advancing both with a passed ball. Quietly down then, he proceeded to strike out the next two men, but T. Moriyama started trouble by sending out a long double to left center, bringing Araki and Nishi over the plate.

After two out in their half, the soldiers took advantage of Araki's bad error at third base, more than squaring matters by gathering four runs. Hixenbaugh and Willis gathered singles and Araki bobbled Renowald's easy grounder, filling the sacks. Franklyn fumbled Mason's drive and Hixenbaugh and Willis came home. Byrnes again filled the bases when he drew four balls from Moriyama and Araki fumbled another fast drive off Swinton's bat, the ball going out into left field and Renowald and Mason passing across the plate.

From that time on the exhibition was uninteresting, the only question being how badly the Asahis would be beaten.

REGIMENTS AT SCHOFIELD WILL PLAY BASEBALL

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, March 7.—A meeting of the baseball representatives of the four regiments at Schofield Barracks was called today by Colonel McGunagle, the post commander, to make plans for a series of games between the regiments. Those present were Captain Knight and Lieutenant Sadler of the 1st Infantry, Lieutenant Glassford of the 1st Field Artillery, Lieutenant Harbold of the 25th Infantry and Lieutenant Lyman of the 4th Cavalry.

This committee requested Colonel McGunagle to request that the department commander call a meeting of the athletic or baseball representatives of the four regiments at Schofield, the 2d Infantry, coast artillery and staff corps, for the purpose of organizing an army league to commence about May 1.

It seems probable that at least six teams would enter such a league, four from Schofield, and two or three from town. There would probably be three games a week, with six teams in the league would result in two games being played at Schofield and one in town. There is no doubt but what a great amount of interest would be taken in such a series. The committee was of the opinion that the present All-Service team is not a representative army team, but that immediately after this series between the regiments an all-army team should be selected to represent the service against other teams in the territory; or perhaps it would be possible to organize a league at this time which would include the all-army team.

It was the desire of the committee to try and secure co-operation among all the service people in Hawaii interested in baseball each year, starting with series between companies, troops and batteries, progressing through battalion and squadron series to a league between the regiments, and finally selecting an all-service team that will be really representative. In this matter it will be also necessary to co-operate with the managers of the principal civilian teams, and it is hoped to develop baseball in the territory so that we will have better games and greater interest than ever before, at least as far as the army is concerned.

Colonel McGunagle also approved the committee's proposition to build a baseball park to be used for only the principal games at Schofield Barracks. The park to be gradually enlarged so as to include running tracks and accessories for all sports. The site selected is centrally located, being just east of Colonel McGunagle's quarters, on the site of the last brigade encampment. Lieutenant Harbold will have principal charge of the construction which will commence immediately.

OAHUS AND PUNS PLAY 11 FRAMES IN CLOSE GAME

OAHUS 2—Punahou 1—
Another game was added Saturday afternoon to the list of extra-inning contests that have been staged at Athletic Park the last few weeks, when the Punahou boys lost to the Oahus in the eleventh round on errors, letting the latter take the long end of a 2-to-1 score. Both Oahu's points were due principally to bobbles.

Willie Williams, for the winners and Al Castle for the collegians did excellent work on the mound, the former showing more class than he has exhibited in the box for a long time, while the loss of the game was through no fault of the latter, for the few hits collected off him were well scattered.

Oahu scored first, when in the fourth inning with one down Franco sent a hit out to right field, stole second, went to third on Kualili's drive to center and came home on Lyman's wild throw to second to catch Kualili, the ball going out to right center.

The collegians nearly tied the score in the seventh when Willie Hoogs drove the ball out on the left field line and scurried around to third base, only to be called back to the plate by the umpire, who declared the drive a foul. Hoogs missed the next strike and went to the bench. In the eighth the Punahou aggregation managed to tie the game up on Henshaw's three-bagger to left field and Izard's single to right.

Again in the ninth the Punahou looked good to win, when Derby collected a single and Lyman and W. Hoogs beat out infield hits, filling the bases. But Henshaw retired on a high foul, taken by Ah Toon, while Kualili grabbed Castle's drive and pegged Derby at the plate and Williams received Izard's bouncer, throwing him out at first.

Willie Desha singled to center, stole second and came home with the winning point, when Henshaw fumbled Franco's hit.
